

Rural Youth Reconciliation Initiative (R-YRI) 2019

Canadian Roots Exchange (CRE) is a charitable organization that believes youth play a lead role in strengthening intergenerational relations and redefining existing relationships between the diverse peoples of this land. From coast to coast to coast, CRE brings together teams of Indigenous and non-Indigenous youth to break down stereotypes that divide communities. CRE programming is led by youth in partnership with community resources and adult allies.

CRE is excited to roll out its inaugural Rural Youth Reconciliation Initiative (R-YRI). This project engages rural young leaders aged 18 to 29 years from across the country, building a national network of young leaders realizing their own transformative visions of community building.

Phase 1 - Training and Development in January-February 2019

Youth leaders will participate in an intensive orientation, learning, and training retreat. The training takes place from February 1-4, 2019 just outside of Montreal, QC. It is mandatory for all leaders to attend this training.

The retreat will provide training on reconciliation, decolonization, facilitation, cross-cultural education, as well as Indigenous history, cultures and worldviews. R-YRI leaders will work together to develop tools and action plans for the second phase of the project.

Phase 2 - Community Engagement from February 2019 to April 2019

R-YRI leaders will return to their regions equipped with the tools to deliver programming based on themes pertaining to solidarity and reconciliation. This phase of the project will put into action the skills and knowledge developed during the learning retreat.

Each team will work together over three months to plan and implement a rural engagement community project within their respective communities.

Additionally, each team will host a community forum. The purpose of these forums is to engage with community members on the subject of the role and future of reconciliation in rural Canada. With support from the CRE staff, your local team will design the questions and framework of the forums and analyze the feedback.
